Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 13, 14, 18, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 13, the limitation "a bracket fixed to a surface" renders claim 13 indefinite because the surface is not a part of the claimed invention. It is only an intended use of the display. Such positive recitation of the intended use does not clearly define the scope of the claimed invention.

Claim 18, the limitation "the vertical surface is a shower curtain" renders claim 18 indefinite because the vertical surface is not a part of the claimed invention. It is only an intended use of the display. Such positive recitation of the intended use does not clearly define the scope of the claimed invention.

Claim 20 is indefinite because its preamble "A method of locating the suction cups" is not consistent with the preamble of claim 9.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over
Thurber U.S. Patent 1,087,336.

Art Unit: 3712

Thurber disclosed a display comprising a book with covers (1, 2), a plurality of pages (8) are attached to the covers and could open vertically, the pages contain indicia or words, conventional support means (wire 15 and hook) for supporting the book on a surface. It is noted that Thurber failed to specifically teach the display could be used in a shower enclosure and the pages are waterproof. However, Thurber stated at the end of page 1 through the beginning of page 2 "The present invention is not limited to use in connection with instruction charts or maps, but may be used for any other purpose to which it is adaptable." Therefore, it is within the scope of the Thurber reference that the display could be used in a shower enclosure and it would be obvious to one skilled in the art to make the book waterproof to prevent from stain.

Regarding method claims 32-36, the disclosure of Thurber and the above explanation would constitute such obvious method of using the display.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The enclosed references are cited for interest.
